

The 1th of February 2016

Dear colleagues!

We invite you to take part in the Second International Conference on Nuclear Decommissioning and Environment Recovery INUDECO, which will be held 26-27th of April 2016 in Slavutyich (Ukraine) in the scope of events dedicated to 30 anniversary of Slavutyich town that was built for Chornobyl disaster fighters.

The conference is held to address the problems of improving the efficiency of scientific research, cooperation and exchange of experience on decommissioning of nuclear facilities and radioactive waste and spent nuclear fuel. In the context of the disasters of Chornobyl (1986, Ukraine) and Fukushima (2011, Japan) the challenges today are the reintegration of territories and social adaptation of the victims, as well as restoring the environment.

Representatives of the government and private sectors, non-profit and scientific organizations will be given the opportunity to take part in following sections:

- The experience of liquidating the consequences of the Chornobyl disaster and making the “Shelter” object an ecologically safe system.
- Decommissioning nuclear power plants, treating with radioactive waste and spent nuclear fuel.
- Social reintegration of the people and territories related to the termination of operation of core enterprises.
- Emergency response on objects of critical infrastructure.
- IT support of nuclear decommissioning.
- “Smart city” technologies of the 21st century.
- Ecological problems of constant development and safe environment. 12 Slavutyich ECO Forum
